Battling drug addiction? No doubt the journey to sobriety will be challenging, but you need to keep pressing on. We've gathered six highly valuable Motivational Quotes for Drug Addicts that we believe will keep you going no matter what;

“We are hard pressed on every side, but not crushed; perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted, but not abandoned; struck down, but not destroyed.”

You've been through trying times of addiction, done terrible things and suffered a lot. There are instances you felt so empty and suicidal. However, whatever tribulations you've had to go through and will probably experience when fighting drug addiction have only made you stronger.

It's now time to prove to yourself, your therapists and family members that you've come out with more vigor. If you have borne all that, then you'll inevitably emerge a winner in your journey to sobriety.

“What's done is done. What's gone is gone. One of life's lessons is always moving on. It's okay to look back to see how far you've come but keep moving forward.”

Without a doubt, you don't have another opportunity to start over right from the very beginning. However, you have no reason to worry that your efforts to stop alcohol and substance abuse will yield nothing. Believe that the past is just that – the past and work on building a new future – one that you'll be sober. Work towards that dream every single day. Let it be a new beginning.

“I can do all things through him who strengthens me.”

A bible verse and very motivating if you're on your journey to recovery. Believe that the Lord is with you and will give you the strength you need to fight on. If you believe that God is fighting on your side, then you'll surely stop the bad habit.

“When the going gets tough, put one foot in front of the other and just keep going. Don't give up.”

If you're fighting an addiction, the encounter may not be that simple. Time will come when you'll feel like giving up. Temptations to go back to alcohol and substance abuse will come back. The chances are that you'll think that those around you are not supportive enough. Don't give up! Keep moving, and you'll be glad you did.

“When in doubt, throw doubt out and have a little faith....”

There's no denying you'll feel so down and like your efforts will amount nothing. You'll feel this strong temptation to quit. But if you want to keep along the track, just have a little faith in your efforts to going back to your former sober life.

“Failure is a bend in the road, not the end of the road. Learn from failure and keep moving forward.”

The first and most critical step to complete recovery is the acceptance that you messed up. But the big question is, 'What have you learned from your failure? If you have your lessons, now it's time to correct the mistakes of the past toward full recovery.
